HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH

Hispanic Heritage Month starts on September 15 each year because El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Guatemala, and Nicaragua all observe their Independence Day on that date. Mexico (September 16) and Chile (September 18) also celebrate their independence. This celebration and recognition of hispanic heritage was increased from a week to a month during Rolan Reagan's presidency in the 1980s. More facts and information to come!
